

EDUCATORS SHAPING FUTURES

A Global Knowledge Exchange on Teacher Preparation and Development

Song

Congratulations, congratulations,

Congratulations, congratulations!

To every teacher, near and far,
With respect and thanks, you're our star.

A school may rise, its walls so grand,
But without teachers' guiding hand,
If minds don't grow, if hearts don't learn,
Tomorrow's dreams may crash and burn.

Students stumble, nations fall,
Without your wisdom, we lose it all.

Teachers walk with steady stride,
Cane in hand, with hope as guide,

Entrusted with the gift of light,
Revealing letters, making bright.

Through forests deep and winding roads,

In city streets and rural abodes,
They face the odds, they never tire,

Lifting every child higher.

So humanity learns, begins to change,

With lessons taught, horizons range.

The fruit of teachers—hope anew,

We witness all that you can do.

United now, we stand as one,

Glorious work, so much begun.

The country's pride, the teacher's fame,

In heaven and earth, we praise your name.

Peace and progress, wisdom's quest,

Modern times, you give your best.

Teachers shape the future's way,

EDUCATORS SHAPING FUTURES

A Global Knowledge Exchange on Teacher Preparation and Development

In every life, in every day.

By reaching far, by leading minds,

Excelling in research of all kinds,

By science, art, and hidden truth,

By teaching, guiding every youth.

Recognition, honor, too,

Working for the country true,

For generations yet to be—

Teachers, you shape destiny.
