

EDUCATORS SHAPING FUTURES

A Global Knowledge Exchange on Teacher Preparation and Development

Slido Results: What is one key takeaway you remember from yesterday?

Quality of ITE IS CRITICAL TO RRAIN AND DEPLOY QUALIFIED TEACHERS
Careful selection of teachers for effective teaching
Use old teachers to train other fellow teachers instead of bringing outsiders
Teacher wellbeing is key to improving learning outcomes
Teachers wellbeing matters
Motivation and commitment of teachers very important for sustainability.
Continue ton maintain a critical mindset despite the use or AI
Using AI in the assessment, lesson plan and gradings
The adoption of Ai must be done on a locality by locality basis according to needs
We should involve teachers from the scratch so that their interest is included in the Continuous Professional Development
Teacher agency
Kenya's CBC approach is also impressive and look forward to seeing the CBC pedagogy in place nationwide.
Favourite teachers are those that exhibit love to the learners
AI is useful but it can also bring digital gap between rural and urban areas ig not handled well.
Kenyan teachers attraction depends on the government taking action in keeping their benefits
Real collaboration between North & South
Teaching is the profession on which all other profession depends. There is no great lawyer, doctor or pilot without a great teacher.
The new generation of teachers enters the profession with deeper mental health awareness and high expectations for workplace support, yet many must overcome significant adversity - including adversity from childhood and their own school experiences.
The importance of school leaders in CPD a reality in schools
Cautious integration of AI in educatio
Teacher professional development is easy to get it wrong.
Professionalizing means teachers leading Teacher well being
Education Systems must reflect on the heavy work investment (HWI) of teachers so that PDs, PLC, teacher agency, and other interventions can be realistic in different contexts.
Give full support and inspire our teachers to realize their full potential to contribute meaningfully in our respective communities and societies.
We need to also focus on school leaders' capacity development.
Teacher shoul develop their professional identity
On Artificial Intelligence: I noticed that it is here to stay. However, in many African countries that have no infrastructure with large poor rural communities, AI use in education is exclusive and selectively empowering
Wise integration of AI to education
Relevance of teacher training with the needs of 21st century skills that our children require

EDUCATORS SHAPING FUTURES

A Global Knowledge Exchange on Teacher Preparation and Development

AI limitation is okay since limitations are there in all sectors.
Disparity in the level of preparedness of countries to meet the future.
Quality of education is not possible without teachers CPD.
Bringing people from different backgrounds to discuss a common challenge creates a more comprehensive perspective
Make sure the school heads of institution are involved before you start TPD
Embrace AI and effectively use it
Need for investing in teacher quality and their satisfaction.
No need to go far for relevant solutions! Just look at the best solution in the country
We have enough resources in this hall to solve the teacher shortage challenge
Teacher wellbeing in terms of depression and anxiety in Kenya
Countries put a lot of efforts in ITE, some excel into one or two pillars such as Relevant and Impactful ITE program content and Align institutions, but not encompassing all pillars. Great work!
Engagement of teachers in their professional development and setting of goals shared in the community of practice
Teachers must be part of their professional development, to make decisions about it.
Most CPDs do not train on actual subject areas but other issues like gender and policy issues
Successful scaling ITE needs political will and integrate teachers in the process.
strong focus on school leaders
There is a gap between the headteachers or policy level and the local in-service teachers.
Teachers as artists
L'introduction de l'IA dans les programmes de formation et d'apprentissage est irréversible et nous devons nous mettre.
Context matters in teacher education several entry to enhance teachers workforce. One of them is to focus on initial training
We can utilize AI to strengthen CPD
How AI is changing teacher education template - but we cannot avoid it, we rather should wisely deal with it.
Follow-up with any teacher program is important
Well-being
AI is a good way to improve teachers work
AI role in coaching teachers
We need to collaborate to help and assist our educators across sectors
Involve teachers in teachers training
Nothing for us without us brings us to the importance of involvement of teachers in every step of the way
Motivation should be intrinsic
Teachers agency is one of the best way to make our teachers motivated
There is a need to enhance quality of field placements and ensure participation on quality assurance process
AI and digital technology could be embraced to deliver teaching and learning at the university
Systematic of Teacher Development

EDUCATORS SHAPING FUTURES

A Global Knowledge Exchange on Teacher Preparation and Development

Quality of education = Quality teacher
System alignment and simple solutions and readjustment along the way are key to success
Teachers need support (technical, mental and morale) to do their jobs well.
The challenge of attracting students to be teachers is a universal concern.
Advantages of AI outweighs the disadvantages. Use it
Teacher satisfaction is important
Giving children the opportunity to ask and answer questions teacher support system needs to be embedded to local context and be sustainable.
Bottom-up approach to teacher professional development
QA of Teacher Education Programs
Teacher-led professional development and the potential use of AI in TPD
Four phases of teacher career development
The value of best minded teachers
The role of AI in initial teacher education and professional developments
AI is changing everyday
Need teacher voices in PD development to be more relevant
The need for collaborative engagement
Implementation at scale isn't easy
Teachers are THE secret ingredient
So many similarities across all our countries in how we are working to support and prepare teachers
Refugee education
AI is here to facilitate learning and teaching
Teacher motivation is important
Carrier counselling
We have to embrace AI
Teachers job satisfaction and motivation needs special attention
One-off, external initiatives don't work - local investment and ownership are vital
Our favorite teachers are the ones that loved us. So we must love them.
Quality of education = quality of teachers!
School leaders owning and being involved in teacher professional development is essential to its success
Rien pour nous sans nous
Most TPD shows modest learning outcome improvements
support system to the school leaders

EDUCATORS SHAPING FUTURES

A Global Knowledge Exchange on Teacher Preparation and Development

ND
Education and teacher development has not kept pace with technology and other fields
Teachers are like artists!

